Thought for the Day

I'd like to be a scientist
For just a little while,
I'd search until I found the germ
That makes a human smile.
—E. J. Appleton.

Was It You?

Somebody did a golden deed;
Somebody proved a friend in need;
Somebody sang a beautiful song;
Somebody smiled the whole day long;
Somebody thought 'tis sweet to live;
Somebody said, "I'm glad to give";
Somebody fought a valiant fight;
Somebody lived to shield the right;
Was this "somebody" you?

Rev. and Mrs. R. D. Dodge of Jacksonville have arrived, called here by the critical illness of the latter's father, Dr. W. V. Newsom, who has had a decided change for the worse.

Friends of Rt. Rev. Edwin G. Weed of Jacksonville will sympathize with him in the loss of his brother, who passed away yesterday at home in Hooton, Conn. Bishop Weed left immediately to be present at the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Waterman are occupying the C. L. Gansby cottage, corner of South Third and Wenona streets, moving today.

Giving pleasure to a few of her neighbors Mrs. Robert Blake was hostess yesterday afternoon to a cycle tea delightfully entertaining

Mrs. Bryce, Mrs. TenEyck, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Campbell and Miss Bessie Whetstone. The ladies took their fancy work and late in the afternoon assisted by her daughter, Miss Irma Blake, the hostess served Waldorf salad, sandwiches and coffee.

Methodist Missionary Society to Give Cycle Teas

The ladies of the Methodist church are always on the alert for plans to raise money delightfully as well as quickly and easily, many times originating schemes that prove most successful. When the cycle teas to raise money for the Children's Home in Jacksonville were introduced in Ocala the Methodist ladies immediately saw the advisability of inaugurating the cycle system in their congregation and since the teas proved such a great success, the ladies have decided to begin their series of teas next week. Mrs. Walter Hood will be the first hostess, entertaining on Tuesday afternoon seven ladies. The teas will extend through three weeks and the fund raised will be used by the missionary society.

Miss Virginia Sistrunk will go to Gainesville Thursday to visit Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Dale for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Moore of Asheville are guests for a few days of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Hampton. Mr. and Mrs. Moore accompanied Mrs. Hampton home from Asheville in her car and the past day or two Mr. Moore has been transacting business in Tampa.

Mrs. West Honored by Miss McDowell
Honoring Mrs. Lawrence West of Williamsport, Pa., who is the guest for the winter of her sister, Mrs. L. M. Murray, Miss Mary McDowell entertained charmingly this afternoon at auction, her guests including the members of the Tuesday auction club, of which she is a popular member and a number of additional friends, making in all four tables of players.

The spacious parlor, library and reception hall where the tables were placed were resplendent with California daisies, arranged artistically. Miss McDowell and Mrs. West received informally.

Forming the tables for four progressions were Misses Eugenia Fuller, Dorothy Schreiber, Ellen Clark, Helen Brown, Bettie McIver, Kathleen Jackson, Nellie Gottlieb, Rosebud Robinson, Annie Atkinson, Mrs. West, Mrs. Albert Gerig, Mrs. R. G. Todd, Mrs. Herbert Lattner, Mrs. Harvey Clark, Mrs. C. H. Lloyd and Mrs. John Taylor.

The prizes for top scores were a pretty bead coin purse and a pair of silk hose. To the special guest of honor was presented a bouquet of beautiful chrysanthemums.

At 4:30 o'clock the players were joined by Miss Tidball, Mrs. L. N. Green, Mrs. J. E. Chace, Mrs. L. M. Murray, Mrs. W. D. Taylor, Mrs. G. H. Ford and Miss Tommie Abernathy.

The pleasant afternoon with Miss McDowell concluded with the enjoyment of a luncheon course served on the card tables and at the dining room table, the ladies not playing auction being seated at the latter.

The temptingly prepared menu included chicken salad, potato chips, asparagus on toast, hot biscuits and coffee.

The lovely hostess was assisted during the afternoon by her charming mother, Mrs. W. M. McDowell and sister, Miss Anna McDowell.

Comfort Lodge to be Reopened Tomorrow
Comfort Lodge, which was opened a few years ago for the convenience of the ladies from the country and maintained through the efforts of the Junior Civic League of the Woman's Club, which has as its able leader, Mrs. J. R. Moorhead, and later had to be closed for the lack of sufficient funds, will be re-opened tomorrow.

In the summer Mrs. C. W. Hunter, chairman of the civics committee, took the initiative to have the rest room opened again. In her efforts she was assisted by her committee and tomorrow the result of several months' work will culminate in the opening of Comfort Lodge. From 3 to 6 o'clock the committee cordially invites the general public to visit the rest room, corner of Magnolia and Fort King, and give it a thorough inspection. The room has been newly papered, new curtains hung, new furnishings have been purchased and this afternoon the fern boxes in front were re-planted, Fire Chief Chambers generously offering to fix the boxes for the ladies.

The civics committee is composed of, besides the efficient chairman, the following: Mrs. Fanny Anthony, Miss Jefferson Bell, Mrs. George Blitch, Mrs. R. B. Bullock, Mrs. A. C. Cobb, Mrs. Marcus Frank, Mrs. Louis Lang, Mrs. Walter Marsh, Mrs. B. T. Perdue, Mrs. R. H. Purdum, Mrs. B. H. Seymour, Mrs. S. T. Sistrunk and Mrs. Frank Harris.

Mrs. C. H. Dame and son, Master George Tindler, left this afternoon for Jacksonville, to make that city their home.

Mrs. E. H. Mote entertained in her royal manner her Baraca class and Mrs. Garrett's Philaetha class on Saturday evening. Seventy-five young people were present—Leesburg notes in Metropolis.

Miss Carrie Bygro, Miss Helen Veal, Mr. W. D. Parker and Mr. Harry Woodward of Cotton Plant are visiting Miss Annie Pope Eagleton.

Miss Susie Lou Ellis is spending fair week in Gainesville, visiting with friends.

Mrs. D. N. Barco arrived in the city Saturday night and has been busy this week packing her household goods to be shipped to their new home in Alachua county, where Mr. Barco is farming on an extensive scale. We regret to lose this estimable family, but are in hopes that "the call" of Arcadia will be strong enough to make them return.—Arcadia News.

Mr. and Mrs. Barco formerly resided at Cotton Plant.

Ladies having cycle tea money are asked to send it immediately to Mrs. William Hocker, who will, as early as possible make a full report of the teas and contributions given and made in behalf of the Children's Home in Jacksonville.

FREE UNTIL 1916

Have you subscribed yet for the Youth's Companion for 1916? Now is the time to do it, if you are not already a subscriber, for you will get all the issues for the remaining weeks of 1915 free from the time your subscription with $2.50 is received.

The fifty-two issues of 1916 will be crowded with good reading for young and old. Reading that is entertaining, but not "wishy-washy." Reading that leaves you when you lay the paper down, better informed, with keener aspirations, with a broader outlook on life. The Companion is a good paper to tie to if you have a growing family—and for general reading, as Justice Brewer once said, no other is necessary.

If you wish to know more of the brilliant list of contributors, from our ex-presidents down, who will write for the new volume in 1916, and if you wish to know something of the new stories for 1916, let us send you free the forecast for 1916.

Every new subscriber who sends $2 for 1916 will receive, in addition to this year's free issues, the Companion Home Calendar for 1916. Address the Youth's Companion, Boston, Mass. New subscribers received at this office.

THE NEXT BEST THING TO THE PINE FOREST FOR COLDS IS—

Dr. Bell's Pine-Honey-Tar which goes to the very foot of cold troubles. It clears the throat and gives relief from that clogged and stuffed feeling. The pines have ever been the friend of man in driving away colds. Moreover, the pine-honey qualities are peculiarly effective in fighting children's colds. Remember that a cold broken at the start greatly removes the possibility of complications. 25 cents. No. 1.

BRITISH ARMY SWORDS.

Each Branch of the Service Has Its Own Type of Weapon.

Swords in the British army vary to a very great extent, and practically every branch of the service has its own type of weapon. The difference is not so much in the shape of the blade as in that of the hilt.

The sword used by the infantry has a large ornamental guard, bearing the royal cipher and crown. There is a slot at the top of the guard for the sword knot, really a leather loop ending in a knot to prevent the loss of the sword. The infantry sword is perfectly straight and is sharp on one edge only.

Rifle regiments have a special sword of their own with the rifle badge let into the openwork guard. Very much the same sort of sword, but with a still more open guard, consisting of three curved bars, is used by the royal artillery and army service corps. The Royal engineers have a gilt hilt on their swords, a distinction they prize.

The claymore of the highland regiments has a big basket hilt lined with red cloth and blue ribbons. The officers of some Scottish regiments carry a plain cross blitted sword without a guard.

Until a few years ago the cavalry were armed with sabers. Nowadays, however, they carry swords of a straight rapier pattern. The guard is a large affair, completely shielding the hand.—New York Times.

She Knows What She Wants

The well informed housekeeper insists upon using only a baking powder which is made of cream of tartar. She might read in an advertisement or be told that alum and lime phosphate, which are used as inferior substitutes in cheap baking powders, were all right in the quantities used but she would not buy them or permit them to enter her kitchen. Why?

Because she knows that cream of tartar has always been accepted as the most wholesome agent, with soda, for raising cake and biscuit, and she wants a baking powder made of cream of tartar, like Royal.

This conclusion is the result of unconscious absorption, either her own or her mother's, of the opinions of the highest authorities on hygiene and home cooking.

The prudent housekeeper, when she uses baking powder, reads the names of the ingredients printed on the label. She knows what she wants.

Priming a Dynamite Cartridge

To properly prime a dynamite or farm powder cartridge four things are essential—the cap, the fuse, the cartridge and a crimping tool. The method in itself is very simple.

First crimp the priming cap about the fuse, using the crimping tool as shown in the illustration. Next punch a diagonal hole in the cartridge with the end of the crimping tool, making the hole deep enough to entirely bury the cap. Insert the cap into this hole and tie the fuse to the side of the cartridge.

Then insert in another diagonal hole below the first hole. No tying is necessary to hold the cap in the cartridge. This method is called "lacing the fuse through the cartridge." It is unsafe and unreliable. The fuse is likely to break at the sharp turns and the powder train spit fire through the break, setting fire to the cartridge instead of exploding it, or the fuse may miss fire altogether, leaving an unexploded charge in the hole, or it may hang fire for half an hour or half a day and cause a serious accident. Short cuts do not pay in handling explosives.
